What is asset allocation and diversification?

Asset allocation = investing capital among asset classes such as equities, fixed income and cash equivalents, consistent with a customer’s investment objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance.

Diversification = investing capital within asset classes. For example, within equities, a customer may choose to diversify across large-, mid- and small-cap equities.

With a State Farm® brokerage account, customers may (1) build a diversified multi-fund portfolio consisting of several mutual funds or (2) leverage a single mutual fund that provides a diversified option that aligns with their investment objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance. We currently offer 141 mutual funds, 83 from BlackRock® and 58 from American Funds®, 41 of which are target date, target allocation or multi-asset strategy funds.

Building Diversified Multi-Fund Portfolios

The following examples show different ways customers might construct a well-diversified portfolio based on risk tolerance with a combination of mutual funds. Remember, your customer will fall into one of five risk categories in accordance with their responses to the risk tolerance questionnaire. Each individual mutual fund offered on the brokerage platform has its own risk score. When creating a multi-fund portfolio, the weighted average risk score of all the assets in the portfolio must fall within the customer’s respective risk tolerance range. To meet their asset allocation preferences, customers may select mutual funds offered by BlackRock and American Funds on the State Farm Fund Offering.

Provides long-term capital growth by investing in U.S. small-, mid- and large-cap equities, along with exposure to international equity markets. This asset mix may be appropriate for investors who have a preference for growth and who can withstand significant market fluctuations.

Moderate Aggressive (80.0 – 0.0)
Provides long-term capital growth by investing in U.S. and international equities, with some exposure to fixed income for diversification. This example asset mix may be appropriate for investors who seek growth and some income and who can withstand moderate market fluctuations.

Moderate (60.0 – 0.0)
Provides long-term growth of capital by investing in U.S. and international equities with exposure to fixed income for diversification and income. This asset class may be appropriate for investors seeking income with the potential for capital appreciation and who can withstand moderate market fluctuations.

Conservative customers are allowed to invest in the Moderate Conservative category.

Leveraging a Single Diversified Mutual Fund
A variety of diversified single-fund options are available on the Investment Planning Services brokerage platform. Both BlackRock and American Funds offer a series of target-date mutual funds that follow a risk reduction path by adjusting the fund's asset allocation to become more conservative over time. In addition, both fund providers offer several target-allocation options that provide investors balanced and diversified exposure across a wide range of asset classes, geographies and securities. The following funds are available to customers that desire a single-fund option to achieve diversified asset allocation.

Target Date Funds are portfolios whose investment objectives are adjusted over time to be more conservative as the target date (date the investor plans to start withdrawing their funds) approaches. The principal value of the fund(s) is not guaranteed at any time, including at the target date.

Diversification and asset allocation does not assure a profit or protect against loss.

Securities, insurance and annuity products are not FDIC insured, are not bank guaranteed and are subject to investment risk, including possible loss of principal.

The stocks of small companies are more volatile than the stocks of larger, more established companies.

Foreign investments involve greater risks than U.S. investments, including political and economic risks and the risk of currency fluctuations.

Bonds are subject to interest rate risk and may decline in value due to an increase in interest rates.

You could lose money by investing in the Money Market Fund. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the Fund is not a deposit of a bank and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) or any other government agency. The Fund’s sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the Fund at any time.
