

Employment Selection Tests

The purpose of this brochure is to provide applicants for employment with information about the State Farm® selection tests. Unauthorized exposure to actual tests or test questions prior to taking the tests will automatically disqualify the applicant from employment.

Important:

The tests are administered by computer and some tests are timed. If you believe that you have a condition or circumstances which might affect your ability to take these types of tests, please contact your employment representative prior to testing to discuss your possible need for an accommodation. Once such a request has been made, please be prepared to provide verification of your need for accommodation.

Employment Selection Tests

The employment selection process at State Farm determines if the personal attributes of applicants match the requirements of the organization's jobs. One of the ways to gauge this match is the use of employment tests. Performance on employment tests, as well as information obtained from other sources during the selection process (such as interviews and the employment application) helps us make hiring decisions about applicants.

The employment tests used by State Farm were professionally developed according to industry standards. Research has shown that performance on these tests is related to job performance.

Strategies for taking employment tests

- It is important to test when well rested. Don't be alarmed at being a little nervous. Being a little nervous about taking tests is typical of most applicants.
- Some sections are timed. Work as quickly and as accurately as you can. Do not spend too much time on any one item. Just answer as many questions as you can.
- You may be required to take more than one assessment, depending upon the job(s) for which you're applying. It is important to set aside plenty of uninterrupted time in order to complete each of the tests.

You will be provided with instructions that include the amount of time required and computer specifications for each test. If you have questions or don't understand the instructions, inform your HR contact prior to starting the test.

State Farm Screening Battery (SFsb)

Some jobs require testing that measures personal attributes such as ability to learn and follow procedures, developing and maintaining relationships, and dependability. The tests will differ in content and complexity level, depending on the position for which you are being considered.

Some of the tests are timed. On average, the battery will require slightly more than one hour to complete.

SkilTrak

Some jobs require testing that measures an applicant's ability to demonstrate fundamental keyboarding and navigation skills required in most entry-level, customer-facing positions. In addition to completing a typing assessment, applicants use headphones and the spoken word to respond to simulated customer calls for data entry. A full keyboard for typing is recommended. This assessment is timed and could take up to 30 minutes to complete.

SFsb Sample Test Questions

Sample questions are provided to give you examples of the kinds of test questions you may be asked. Actual test questions will vary in their degree of difficulty and some will be more difficult than the sample questions.

Correct answers to the sample questions are located at the bottom of this page.
