California Consumer Privacy Notice

STATE FARM®

We value your privacy.

This State Farm® California Consumer Privacy Notice describes how we collect, use, and disclose the personal information of California consumers and the rights prescribed by the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA). Consumers as defined by the CCPA includes State Farm job applicants, current and former employees, contractors of State Farm, and persons we interact with in their capacity of representing another business. The rights prescribed by the CCPA, including the rights described in the California Privacy Rights section of this notice, do not take effect until January 1, 2021 for this group.

Personal information protected by other laws such as the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) and the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) is not regulated by the CCPA. Our privacy notices concerning personal information protected by laws such HIPAA, can be found on our website.

In the event of a conflict between this Notice and other State Farm privacy notices or policies, this Notice will prevail as to California consumers’ rights under the CCPA.

California Privacy Rights

State Farm job applicants, current and former employees, contractors of State Farm, and persons we interact with in their capacity of representing another business that are California residents have the privacy rights described in this section, subject to certain limitations. Again as state above, the rights for this group do not take effect until January 1, 2021.

You may submit a request described below or submit one through an authorized agent (Examples of an authorized agent may include a power of attorney, guardian, conservator or one registered with the California Secretary of State). Requests submitted to us are subject to review, identification, and verification. We will acknowledge receipt of your request and provide information about processing the request and the verification process. We may ask you for information which allows us to confirm your identity in relation to information we currently have. In addition, we may require notarization of any forms submitted. We may also ask for documentation verifying that your designated agent is authorized to act on your behalf. We may not be able to fulfill your request if we are unable to verify you are the consumer that is the subject of the request, or that the agent is, in fact, authorized to act on your behalf.

We will make reasonable efforts to identify personal information that we collect, use, and disclose to respond to your request. In some instances we may not be able to process a request because, for example, we may not be able to sufficiently verify your identity based on the information you provide to us in response to our verification process. In such instances, we will provide you with a written explanation as to the reason we cannot process your request.

In some cases, we may suggest that you receive the most recent or a summary of your personal information and give you the opportunity to elect whether to receive the rest of your personal information. We reserve the right to direct you to where you may access and copy responsive personal information.

Instructions on making a request are contained in the Contact Us section.
